

Optimism Expressed In League Consideration Of Ethiopian Dispute

Conciliatory Formula Prepared Overnight by Anthony Eden of Britain and Premier Laval of France and Sent to Mussolini.

ITALY OBJECTS

Does Not Want To Sit in Conference With Ethiopia on Basis of Equality.

Geneva, Aug. 1 (P)—Certain League of Nations' circles predicted today, following a long distance telephone conference between Premier Laval of France and Premier Mussolini of Italy, that a formula for the settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute would be agreed upon within 24 hours.

The impression grew that Il Duce had proved somewhat conciliatory in his talk with Laval.

This optimism was expressed despite the fact that only a few hours earlier the Italian delegation to the special session of the League Council, summoned to attempt a solution of the crisis, had declared an Anglo-French formula "entirely unacceptable."

The formula had been prepared overnight by Anthony Eden of Great Britain and Premier Laval of France. The text of the formula was communicated at once to Premier Mussolini in Italy. A spokesman for the Italian delegation told the Associated Press: "The atmosphere among Italians is one of distinct pessimism."

A formal council session, scheduled for late afternoon was cancelled an hour before it was to be called and the cancellation was interpreted as meaning that more time was necessary to negotiate the difficult situation with Premier Mussolini.

After the Italian delegation's attitude became known, Premier Laval immediately called Premier Mussolini by telephone urging him to abandon his opposition to the plan.

The two premiers held a long conversation. It was understood the French leader called the attention of Italy's Chief to the gravity of the situation from the standpoint of the League of Nations, Europe, and the world.

While his French colleague talked on the telephone, Eden, the British "Trouble Shooter," relaxed comfortably in a rocking chair on the porch of his hotel. He sat there, placidly, in the sun, awaiting the official Italian answer.

It was said Italy objected particularly to the outstanding provision of the formula, providing virtually for a broad political conference between England, France, Italy and Ethiopia.

Objects To Equality Basis

Italy apparently objected to sitting with Ethiopia on a basis of equality, raising the point that the East African empire was not a party to the 1906 treaty among England, France and Italy, guaranteeing maintenance of the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Ethiopia.

This treaty was chosen as the basis for proposed negotiations among England, France and Italy for continued peace between Ethiopia and Italy.

Reports were current in Geneva circles, however, that a peace conference may eventually be held at Ventimiglia, Italy.

Italy was expected to protest against limits fixed in the draft of the projected peace formula.

One deadline was set for September 4, when the three powers and Ethiopia would be required to report their findings to the league council.

In any event the council would be scheduled to meet September 4. What British representatives called the "British-French formula," was learned from an authoritative source, made a distinct concession to Mussolini by providing that the ownership of Italian colonies of the Italian frontier incident between Italy and Ethiopia, would not be discussed.

Italy has been concentrating its diplomatic light on this point, opposing the Ethiopian contention that responsibility for the frontier clash could not be established without first determining the ownership of the spot.

The projected course of action looking to solution of the East African impasse reportedly called for revival of the Italo-Ethiopian commission with appointment of a fifth, neutral member.

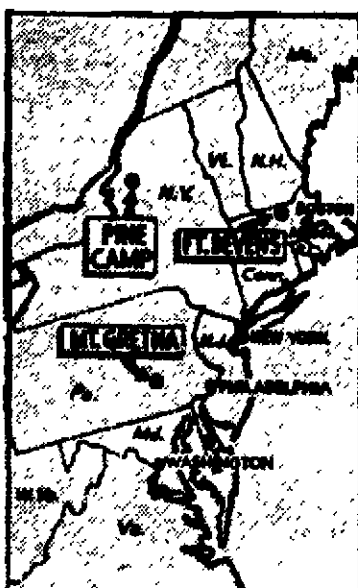

During the arbitration period, Italy and Ethiopia would pledge themselves not to resort to war. Signatories to the 1906 treaty between England, France and Italy, guaranteeing Ethiopian independence and territorial integrity for Ethiopia, would seek a general solution of the controversy.

League sources considered it virtually certain that Mussolini would demand particularly elimination of any reference to the League of Nations. They cited a manifesto in the newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, attributed to Il Duce's pen, that Italy was determined to go ahead.

"With Geneva, without Geneva or against Geneva."

With Mussolini apparently holding the key to the situation, and British and French circles awaiting anxiously his verdict on their formula, dele-

Police Ordered to Teach and Preach Traffic Safety Here

"Teach and Preach Traffic Safety."

These were the instructions issued to Kingston's police officers today by Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, launching the August traffic safety campaign announced yesterday by Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman.

When traffic violations are noted by officers, Chief Wood explained, the violator will be motioned to the curb where the officer will explain to him the danger he has subjected himself and others.

Arrests will be issued only in the case of flagrant violations and in cases where drivers show an inclination to argue or resent the officers' instructions.

"Traffic safety is vital to any city or community," said the chief, "under the complex conditions imposed by modern traffic, with a general increase in traffic speed, every motorist must be continually on the alert. Today traffic speeds far greater than were allowed a few years ago are not only practicable, but actually necessary. Cars get under way quickly when the traffic signal changes. They must be able to stop quickly when it turns against them."

"Police officers will be instructed to check cars, particularly if they note any that show signs of brake failure or wheel shimmy. In that case they will warn the driver that it is fit for driving in heavy traffic if he is to be to the public to understand that this campaign is planned for the good of all. Any man who invests in a motor car wants to enjoy it fully. He wants to feel sure that when he takes the family out for a drive that they will be safe. But he must remember that unless every motorist sees to it that his car is kept in condition, that unless other motorists drive safely, traffic will not be safe. And when he stops to think of that, he must remember that he is the 'other driver' to the thousands of cars he passes in the course of the day's driving."

Mr. Benjamin Dead at 98

London, August 1 (AP)—Col. Sir Benjamin Parnell Bromhead, 98, died today at his home, Thurley Hall, Lincoln. He took his first airplane flight two years ago but, after landing, remarked that flying was not sufficiently exciting.

Members from the 14 nations represented on the League Council continued private negotiations.

A public meeting of the council was scheduled for 5 p. m. (11 a. m. Eastern Standard Time), but it appeared doubtful whether it could be held before tomorrow.

Premier Laval told representatives of the French press:

"We are merely beginning difficult negotiations that may take several days."

Jury Is Deadlocked In Secretary Morgenthau Deciding Verdict On Schultz Income Case

Former Beer Baron Paces Cell in Jail Awaiting Trial of Deliberation on the Four Charges Brought by Government.

FACES JAIL AND FINE

Liable to Get 16 Years in Prison and Order to Pay Fines Totaling $40,000.

Malone, N. Y., Aug. 1 (P)—Nervously, Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Fliegenheimer paced his jail cell today while a deadlocked federal jury deliberated his income tax evasion case.

The jurors returned to their deliberation at 9:30 last night, before being sent to their hotel rooms by Judge Frederick H. Bryant, they reportedly stood nine to three for acquittal of the former Bronx beer dealer.

The jury had the case 17 hours when it resumed its work this morning. At Schultz's first trial at Syracuse, a jury was discharged when it reported after 27 hours deliberation it could come to no agreement.

The courtroom was jammed, as it was last night, by local citizens, anxious to learn the fate of Schultz, who is charged with evading payment of $92,000 taxes on an alleged income of $480,000 for the three-year period, 1929, 1930 and 1931.

Schultz played a winning game of pinocchio with three fellow inmates far into the night. He did not appear nervous then. It convicted on all counts of the four-count indictment against him, he faces possible imprisonment of 16 years and fines totaling $40,000.

Less than an hour after they returned to their deliberations today, Judge Bryant summoned the jurors to the courtroom. The doors were locked and Schultz was brought in from his jail cell.

The onetime beer baron tapped on the defense counsel table as Judge Bryant said:

"I have called you into the court to see if there are any phases of this case that I can further clarify."

Leon Chapin, foreman, replied: "Your honor, we want additional information on count No. 3 of the indictment."

Judge Bryant then explained that the third count charged Schultz only with a misdemeanor for failing to file an income tax return for 1931.

The jurist added:

"I will at this time state that last night when you asked for a reading of the indictment I may have confused you by reading the income figures in the indictment. So I will repeat now—the figures set forth in the indictment are not very material in your consideration."

Schultz looked up quickly from his table at this remark.

"Are there any other questions," the court asked.

There being none, the jury again filed out. It was the second time in the deliberation that the jurors had received further instruction from the court.

Last night, they requested for a re-reading of the indictment.

What Morgan, Pratt Pay.

New York, Aug. 1 (P)—J. P. Morgan has the highest individual tax assessment in the wealthy community of Glen Cove, L. I. His real property was valued at $1,136,000 on the tax assessment roll filed today; but the Morgan family ranked lower than the Pratts. The property of the late Charles Pratt—founder of Pratt Institute, was listed at almost $6,000,000. They will pay one-seventh of Glen Cove's total tax income.

Thompson Faces The Chair

Peoria, Aug. 1 (P)—The electric chair loomed for Gerald Thompson, 26, today at a sentence for robbing and killing Mildred Hallmark, 19-year-old covent graduate, the night of June 16. Only seven weeks after the girl's battered and denuded body was found in a cemetery ditch, Thompson was under sentence of death ordered by a circuit court jury which deliberated less than four hours last night. Only two ballots were reported taken.

Secretary Morgenthau Declines To Give Views On Tax Bill In House

Declares It Was Not His Duty To Pass On It, That His Views Were Outlined in President's Message.

ISSUES WARNING

Expresses Hope Tax Revenues Would Be Applied Against Deficit and National Debt.

Washington, Aug. 1 (P)—Secretary Morgenthau declined today to tell the Senate Finance Committee whether the House Tax Bill disregards President Roosevelt's recommendations, but agreed the Treasury would have to be satisfied with the measure the Congress enacted.

After reading a brief prepared statement to the committee warning against new expenditures outside the budget and expressing the hope the revenues from the Tax Bill would be applied against the deficit and the national debt, Morgenthau was asked his views on the House measure.

He consulted his advisers and then said it was not his duty to pass on it, that his views were those outlined in the President's message.

"As long as I'm secretary of the Treasury, I'm not going to try to write tax bills," he asserted.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) observed he couldn't recall a secretary who refused to give his views on tax legislation.

"My views may differ from other secretaries," Morgenthau replied.

The Treasury head asked point-blank by Harrison whether the House bill "conforms" with recommendations of the President and the treasury.

"You place me in an embarrassing position," Morgenthau said, when asked to analyze the bill before the House.

He pleaded that since he had been secretary he had sought "not to tell Congress what the rates of any tax should be."

"It is not to embarrass you," Harrison insisted, "but to try to avoid embarrassing us."

No Additional Expenditures.

Without making any specific recommendations on the new tax bill, the soft-spoken treasury chief said ordinary expenditures of the government were being held within receipts, but that additional revenue, in prospect "which will necessarily fall short of meeting our full needs (including our emergency) does not warrant any additional expenditures outside our budget plans."

"Any such new or additional expenditures," he asserted, "would not conform to the best interests of the national credit."

The treasury secretary read a brief prepared statement to the Senate committee in which he pointed out he had made a statement to the House ways and means committee including a long list of tax ranges for its consideration. He said the treasury was making ready available to the finance group all data it has gathered on taxation.

Concluding his statement, Morgenthau said he wanted "to add an earnest word as to the use to which any additional revenue that the proposed new taxes will produce should be put. Ordinary expenditures for the general purposes of government have been held within the revenues."

"We have incurred and are incurring large emergency expenditures according to a carefully planned program for the sole object of caring for the urgent needs of our citizens and promoting recovery. Additional revenue which will necessarily fall short of meeting our full needs will not warrant new or additional expenditures which would not conform to the best interests of the national credit."

"I hope the Congress will provide that the proceeds of the new taxation you are considering shall be preserved scrupulously for the purpose, first of reducing the deficit, and, later, of reducing the public debt."

August Inherits Heat Wave That Beset July

(By The Associated Press.)

Young August today inherited the shimmering waves of heat that beset July through its month of existence.

A new recorded high for the year, 111 degrees, blistered Phillipsburg, Kas., on the final day of July, and Topeka, Kas., saw the mercury reach 106.

Reported heat deaths in 11 mid-western states reached 108. Nebraska had 19, Oklahoma 18, Minnesota 13 and Texas 10. Deaths reported from other states included: Kansas 9, Illinois and Missouri 8 each, Arkansas 7, Wisconsin 6 and Iowa 4.

In contrast to the brassy heat of the mid-west, Portland, Ore., had a cool top of 66 degrees.

There were showers in northern Nebraska and in South Dakota, but they served only to accentuate the heat. Lincoln, Neb., had 105 degrees maximum, and Pierre, S. D., 101.

There was 102 in Kansas City, Dodge City, Kas., Phoenix, Ariz., and in Fairview and Wynoka, Okla.; Omaha and North Platte, Neb.; Wichita, Kas., and Fort Smith, Ark., had 100 degrees.

Ulster County Fruit Growers Marketing Association Formed

A new enterprise in Ulster county which promises to be of great value to the fruit growers of the county is the organization of the Mid-Hudson Fruit Growers Marketing Association which is composed of several of the larger fruit growers of the county and a number of the smaller producers of Ulster county fruit. This association was first sponsored by the Ulster County Farm Bureau which called a meeting of the producers in the county and outlined the plan which had been suggested by a number of growers, particularly apples and large fruits.

As a result of preliminary meetings, the purpose of the organization being to establish a central market in Ulster county's fruit belt where sufficient fruit could be displayed and offered for sale so as to attract the buyers from the south and east, his idea of a central market was brought out in a recent survey of the county's fruit belt when it was found that about 90 per cent of the apples and other large fruits raised in the county were sold on the farm to buyers. A cooperative market where all might take their crop for sale and meet in competition with the various buyers it was believed would strengthen the price and bring added prosperity to the growers. Elimination of the need of buyers traveling all over the county to visit individual farms would eliminate a large cost item to the buyers and this should make for better offers from buyers.

Plans were made for a permanent organization and at the head of the Mid-Hudson Fruit Growers Marketing Association, which is operating at Highland, are such men as Theodore Oxholm of Esopus who is president; C. Kenneth Taber of Milton, vice-president and secretary; H. C. Vandervort of Highland, treasurer; and the directors of the association are Eber H. Coy of Ardonia, A. R. Mott of Esopus, Joseph Deyo of Gardiner, J. J. Mack of Highland, Francis E. Gaffney of Clintondale, J. Harland of Marlborough, E. M. Clark, Jr. of Milton and Arthur Kurtz of New Paltz.

Purpose of Association.

The purpose of the association is to enable Ulster County fruit growers to take advantage of the growing tendency of city buyers to come to Ulster county and buy and store their fruit in a centrally located, easily accessible place where they can purchase full loads of mixed varieties and grades of fruit. In turn the market gives the growers increased returns, reduces their expenses and should stabilize prices by having their fruit sold at one point by one sales organization to a large group of buyers who will automatically create competition among themselves.

This central market has been tentatively located at a point which is very central to the fruit grower who takes his fruit to the market and it is likewise very easily accessible to the buyers. The market is located at the G. G. Highland & Son building below Highland village at the entrance to the Mid-Hudson bridge. This location of the market makes it very central for the buyers from New York, Patterson and points south on the west shore of the river and also makes it very central for the buyers from New York City, Bridgeport, Hartford, Boston and points to the east.

Already the market has been used by growers of early fruits and thus far has proven its worth. As later crops begin to ripen activity at the market will increase and in addition to the daily sales of fruit plans are being made to hold auctions twice a week where buyers may come and bid.

The operation of the market is

Kingston Is First City in State To Seek Relief Under Law Adopted This Year by The Legislature.

DEBT EQUALIZATION

Plan Reduces Tax Rate Here Next Year $4.69—Comptroller Compliments Mayor Heiselman.

Kingston's tax rate for next year through the efforts of Mayor C. J. Heiselman will be reduced $4.69 per thousand with the adoption of the debt equalization plan made possible by state law enacted by the legislature earlier in the year. That the mayor's plan has been approved is the word received this morning by Mayor Heiselman from State Comptroller Morris S. Tremaine in a communication in which the state comptroller stated that Kingston was the first city in the state to secure authorization to issue debt equalization bonds.

When the new law was passed by the state legislature this year Mayor Heiselman realized that it would afford much needed relief to the taxpayers of Kingston, and he immediately prepared a plan under the provisions of the law which, if adopted by the Common Council and approved by the state comptroller, would reduce the tax rate over $4 a thousand next year.

The plan in brief extended the time of payment of bonds issued for work and home relief which would fall due within the next three years for a period of 10 years so that taxpayers who now found it difficult to pay their taxes would not be forced to retire the bonds within the next three years but have the period of payment extended over a longer period of time.

The mayor submitted the plan to the Common Council with the recommendation that it be adopted as a relief measure for taxpayers. The council adopted the mayor's recommendation, and the plan was then submitted to the state comptroller for his approval which has just been received.

This is the first authorization for any municipality to issue debt equalization bonds under the provisions of a law passed by the last legislature. One of the purposes of the law, which was advocated by Comptroller Tremaine, is to enable municipalities having unusually heavy bond maturities over the next few years to spread these payments over a longer period, thereby equalizing the debt service to be met by taxation and relieving the taxpayers of part of the heavy burden now being carried.

Under the law, each municipality desiring to issue bonds of this character must submit to the comptroller a detailed plan of such proposed financing and outline what it expects to accomplish. Each plan must have the comptroller's approval before it can be put into effect.

Comptroller Tremaine in his letter to Mayor Heiselman says "I intend to follow with interest the action of your council in the preparation of your budget for the next fiscal year. I expect that the benefits derived from the plan under consideration will be passed on to the taxpayers."

Semi-Nude Man For Business.

Peekskill, N. Y., August 1 (P)—The semi-nude of some young men and women vacationists at Lake Mogogon is bad for business, it was testified before the Yorktown town board as property owners and business men sought today to have the violators of local "decent" ordinances brought to task. Mrs. A. L. Shongut said that visitors coming to the community to settle had been so unfavorably impressed by the conduct and attire of some young men and women, not permanent residents, that they immediately changed their plans. The situation causes the loss of estate and home owners, she said, destroys the business of merchants, and deprives the town of needed revenue.

Charged With Theft of $89,000.

New York, Aug. 1 (P)—Mrs. Marian Burke Wright, 27, reported today to be the bride of two months of a peevish N. Y. consulting engineer, was free today in $2,500 bail pending trial on a charge of grand larceny. She pleads not guilty.

The charge is in connection with the shortage of $23,500 reported by the N. Y. Flabery Corporation, realty agents, by whom she had been employed for two years as confidential bookkeeper. She refused to make any statement to the police. Daniel J. Drann, a vice president of the firm, is in an effort that she had admitted taking more than $10,000 of the company's funds.

Treating His In-Laws

Maalieu, Colo., Aug. 1 (P)—Dr. Thomas Richmond's advice to bridegrooms is to "get acquainted with your in-laws. Make friends with them." The little gray-haired doctor from Kansas City, Kan., ought to know about this in-law business. He's spending approximately $100 a day to provide a two-week vacation for 25 of his wife's relatives. The oldest member of the party is Dr. Richmond's father-in-law, Dr. Thomas Richmond, 81-year-old member-in-law. The youngest is his nephew, Bobby Reed, 11 months old.

Cannot Keep Them Down on the Farm

Ithaca, N. Y., August 1.—Much has been said about the "back to the land" movement, but not so much about rural boys and girls who leave home, where they go, what jobs they take, what education they have had, and what this movement means to society.

To learn something about this problem, studies were made by the department of rural social organization at Cornell University of 7,381 living children who were members of 2,539 open-country families in Genesee county, New York.

Results of the study show, according to Professor W. A. Anderson, that "about 32 per cent of the sons and daughters had left home to build their own homes or to live by themselves. More girls than boys leave, because farming can use more men than women."

"The movement away from home begins about the time the children are 16 years of age and is virtually completed by the age of 30. Few leave home after they reach 30 years of age. Between 20 to 24 years of age, this movement increases rapidly and by 24 years of age, 49 per cent of the sons and 62 per cent of the daughters no longer reside in the parental household."

"The school training of these children averages 10 years with the girls having slightly more training than the boys. They have had more school training than their fathers and mothers. There is a slight tendency for the better-schooled sons and daughters to settle in city centers rather than in the open country or smaller villages."

Live Near Home
"More than 80 per cent of these children who no longer live as members of their parent's households reside within a radius of 40 miles of the parent's home. Only ten per cent live outside the state of New York. They have hardly broken their family and community ties."

"Farming as an occupation attracts 30 per cent of the sons who live away from home and 24 per cent of the daughters. If these figures apply to other countries in the state, it means that 70 per cent of those who leave home must find jobs other than farming."

"The cities of Batavia, Buffalo and Rochester attracted most of those who left Genesee county farm homes to settle in cities. Seventy per cent of the sons in occupations other than farming included skilled and unskilled work, business management, clerical and professional work, and a small number continued in education."

"About one-half of the children reared in rural families go into the cities and about three out of 10 remain in the country. The daughters tend to migrate to cities more than do the sons."

"Of the daughters away from home, 69 per cent were housewives, 23 per cent were on farms, and 46 per cent were in villages and cities. Occupations included housekeeping, clerical and stenographic work, unskilled labor, and professional activities," Professor Anderson says.

A single fly may alight on a dozen objects in a few minutes and leave an unseen trail of germs that would be appalling if made visible to the eye of a housewife. Yet it is easy to demonstrate scientifically that a homely fly sheds germs with every step he takes.

Governor Lehman May Attend State Police Session in Kingston

President Peter Keresman of the New York State Police Conference which will hold its 10th annual convention in Kingston on August 13 to 16, inclusive, was in Albany on Wednesday and called on Governor Lehman, who had been invited to be a guest of the conference while it was in session here. The governor informed President Keresman that he was unable at this time to state whether he would be able to accept the invitation, but would try and reach a decision later in the week. The governor said that if it were possible he would be glad to accept the invitation extended him by the state police.

The police conference opens here on August 13 when the delegates will register at the convention headquarters in the Governor Clinton Hotel. That evening at 8 o'clock there will be a banquet at the hotel. The following day the convention will devote its time to business with a business session in the Municipal Auditorium commencing at 10 o'clock and lasting until 2 o'clock that afternoon.

At 5 o'clock that afternoon the delegates will be entertained with refreshments and entertainment at the Elks Club and at 9 o'clock that evening a dance and entertainment will be held in the Auditorium for the delegates and the general public. Business sessions will commence on August 15 at 10 o'clock. The conference will recess in time for the delegates to attend the big ball game between the Kingston and Newburgh police teams which is slated for 2 o'clock. At 4 o'clock the delegates will again be entertained at the Elks Club and at 6 o'clock dinner will be served at the Golden Rule Inn.

The conference closes on August 16 with a business session commencing at 10 o'clock that morning in the Auditorium.

City Allotment for August Is $41,500

The local ERB received word this morning from the State TERA that the city's allotment of state and federal funds for home and work relief in Kingston during August would be $41,500, a reduction of $8,500 from the July allotment which was $50,000. In addition Kingston was allotted the sum of $12,500 during July to carry out flood control work here caused by flood conditions the early part of July which did considerable damage to the Kingston water system.

The local ERB was also informed that the city would be reimbursed 70 per cent instead of 75 per cent on the moneys expended for home and work relief here this month.

LENGTH OF SKIRTS BRINGS ABOUT FASHION FIREWORKS

Paris, Aug. 1 (AP)—A contest over skirt lengths furnished the fashion fireworks today at the winter style shows.

After Chanel showed the shortest skirts seen in Paris for several seasons, Louise Boulanger lowered the wide, scalloped hems of her creations to seven inches from the ground while other designers cut them to 12 inches from the floor.

The final edict in the question awaited next week's showings, although some stylists said women themselves may settle the matter by placing the hems where they seemed most becoming in individual cases.

Skirt widths proved another point of controversy.

Louise Boulanger varied her silhouettes, which had hitherto favored a form-fitting profile with fairly slender skirts, by showing easy fitting day frocks with wide bias skirts and big peasant sleeves. Some of her models had waistlines lowered to an inch above the hips.

Her coats were loose-backed, full length models, with the sleeves having a marked top fullness.

Day dress fabrics were wool, artificial silk, and satin. Predominant colors were black, bottle green and grey.

CHARGES WITHDRAWN IN EAST KINGSTON ASSAULT CASES.

Oscar Jackson, 43, of East Kingston was arrested Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriff Charles McCullough on complaint of Alvin Smith of East Kingston, the charge being assault in the third degree. He was brought to the county jail, but later was released in custody of the deputy. This morning the complaint was withdrawn and Justice Ackler discharged the prisoner. At the same time Jackson withdrew a similar complaint against Smith, who had been arrested last Saturday, and who was out on bail pending a hearing before Justice DeLoce on August 3.

MEMBERS WILL MEET TO DISCUSS CONVENTION.

Members of Joyce-Schrick Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet tonight at 8:15 sharp at the dugout on East Chestnut street. All members are urged to be present as there will be an important discussion on the clambake and convention.

Cordis Home Tonight.

Cordis Home Company will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at the rooms. Following the meeting there will be entertainment and refreshments will be served. All of the members are urged to attend.

Note Indicates That Murder Suspect May Have Taken His Life

Chicago, Aug. 1 (AP)—A note indicating Manderville Zenge, sought for questioning in the mutilation slaying of Dr. Walter John Bauer of Kirksville, Mo., may have committed suicide was turned over to police today.

A taxi driver, identified by police as John Giannini, told authorities he found the note in the effects of a passenger he drove to navy pier on Lake Michigan last night.

Shown a photograph of Zenge, Giannini said: "I think that's the man I drove to the pier."

The note was signed "Manderville," and police immediately set out to determine if the handwriting was that of the wanted man.

The discovery was reported after an inquest into Bauer's death had been postponed until August 25 for further investigation. The doctor's pretty 23-year-old widow, Mrs. Louise Schaffer Bauer of Kirksville, Mo., had failed to provide a clue at the inquest.

The note found in a gray suit the passenger left in the cab, said: "I feel Louise will be happier with the doctor than with me. I intend to end it all."

No Mention Of Attack

The note made no mention of the attack on Bauer, who was kidnapped yesterday in Ann Arbor, Mich., and driven to Chicago by an abductor who performed an emasculation operation with a pocket knife.

The note was addressed to "J. Andy Zenge" on North Sixth street in Canton, Mo. That is the name of Zenge's father, a retired dairyman and head of a respected Missouri family.

The police said there were spots on the coat, and began an investigation to learn if they were blood stains.

The driver told police the man engaged his cab at a stand in front of a near north-side hotel and asked to be driven to Navy Pier, extending a half mile out into Lake Michigan.

Arriving at the pier, the driver said his passenger asked him to wait. The driver requested his fare, and the passenger tossed him a dollar.

When the meter registered $1.00, the driver went to find his passenger. Failing to locate him, the driver looked in the back of the cab and found a gray hat and a gray suit. The note was pencilled in a notebook found in the coat.

Descriptions broadcast by police in the search for Zenge yesterday said he was wearing clothes of that color. Zenge, a tall 26 year old carpenter, had been sought since the dying Bauer, abandoned at a south side filling station, gave his name to police as that of a former sweetheart of Mrs. Bauer.

Bauer was abducted from the Jennings house, Ann Arbor, by an "E. L. Jones of Chicago," he said, a mysterious lodger who wore dark glasses during his stay there. Two hotel men said pictures of Zenge, furnished by Bauer's widow, "looked like" Jones.

After the inquest Mrs. Bauer was taken to the state's attorney's office to amplify her testimony.

Dabbling a handkerchief to her eyes, Mrs. Bauer was questioned concerning Zenge. "Do you believe Zenge would do such a thing?" asked Coroner J. Frank Walsh.

"I don't know," Mrs. Bauer replied, after a pause.

Chiefly in answers of "yes" or "no," Mrs. Bauer told the coroner's jury that she married the young instructor, on the staff of the Kirksville, Mo., College of Osteopathy and Surgery, after a 7-year engagement to Zenge.

"Was Zenge jealous?" asked the coroner.

"He was very jealous of my husband," the widow replied.

"Do you have any idea who committed this crime?" asked Mrs. Bauer.

"except what I heard that my husband said after he was brought to the hospital."

Her married life, Mrs. Bauer testified lasted three hours. She married Dr. Bauer in Kirksville on July 14—"nineteen days ago."

She is night superintendent of nurses at Laughlin Hospital, connected with the College of Osteopathy.

Most of the questions directed by Coroner Walsh concerned Zenge.

"Did Zenge try to contact you after your husband was murdered?" asked Walsh.

"No," said the nurse.

"Did you ever give Zenge reason to believe you loved him?"

"Yes, I did."

"Why did you break off so suddenly with Zenge?" asked the coroner.

"I thought more of the doctor," she replied.

"Do you have any knowledge where Zenge might be now?"

"No."

Missouri police learned Zenge expected to marry Louise on July 17.

"I saw him (Zenge) Tuesday or Wednesday of last week," Mrs. Bauer said.

"We talked about things in general. He asked 'Are you happy?' I said 'I was. He said 'I hope you'll always be.' He had so harsh words and I don't know of any hard feeling between him and my husband."

"Dr. Bauer and I were married on July 14 in Kirksville," she told the coroner. "I had known him five months. He left three hours after the marriage. I have not seen him since then."

The nurse was not asked about letters in which Bauer was reported to have told one friend, "My marriage is a hoax."

May Not Approve Air Base.

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—Some supporters of the Wilcox air base bill are known to be concerned that it be killed by a presidential veto. The bill, which authorizes expenditure of nearly $120,000,000 for construction of six major air bases for the army, passed the senate last week and went to the White House. Since then there has been no indication of presidential action on it. The fact that he did not sign it quickly has given rise to a feeling in some quarters that he may not approve of

Warning Delivered By "Black Corps"

Berlin, Aug. 1 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's "Black Corps," the Schutz Staffel, delivered a solemn warning to "state enemies" today that the Nazi guards must be reckoned with in the event of a showdown.

The soldierly blackcoats, picked to protect the Nazi party and the personal loyalty of the warning, directed chiefly at the Stahlhelm (steel helmet) veterans' organization.

The admonition, issued through the Schutz Staffel organ, "Black Corps" and reproduced by Hitler's newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, followed orders by Count Von Helldorf, Berlin's new police president, for his men to hold themselves ready for eventualities all this week.

The capital, however, was outwardly quiet.

While Nazi officials have admitted that opposition to their regime existed—although insisting the party would muster a majority of more than 90 per cent if Hitler went to the polls unaided—unbearable, persisted among merchants and housewives over the food scarcity and rising prices.

Berlin's dry goods stores have been jammed daily with bargain seekers now that clearance sales are in full swing. Two such sales are permitted annually by Nazis, and housewives are rushing to lay in supplies at knock-down rates.

Food prices were mounting. Eggs were selling in downtown Berlin at 72 cents a dozen and butter at 64 cents a pound. The late arrival of summer ruined fruit and vegetable crops, and some prices virtually have doubled within a few weeks.

The uneasiness was reflected in a growing demand for metal money instead of paper. Merchants gave evidence of a disinclination to accept bills of high denominations.

Hitler was at his home in the Bavarian mountains. General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, air minister and premier of Prussia, also was absent from Berlin.

The campaign against Jews and "political Catholicism," persisted, however, with Nazi printed propaganda still lashing out against these "menaces" to Nazism.

Poultry Outlook Called Favorable

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 1.—A "favorable outlook" for poultry producers the remainder of this year is seen by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics in its summer poultry and egg outlook report.

Egg and poultry prices are likely to continue at higher levels than last year, the bureau says. The supply of fresh eggs is expected to be a little larger than last year, but the supply of shell eggs in storage is much smaller than a year ago and will offer less competition to the fresh-egg supply.

Increased production per hen and a small increase in number of layers are expected to result in increased production of eggs during the early months of 1936 as compared with the small output in the corresponding months of 1935.

Supplies of poultry next fall and winter are expected to be slightly smaller than last fall and winter. Storage stocks are somewhat larger, but there are fewer hens on farms. Many of the chickens raised this year will be saved for layers, the bureau says, and a smaller proportion of the total crop made available for market.

Baby Killdeer Are Slow Growers; Have Long Legs

Unlike most of their other birds, baby killdeer desert their nest just as soon as their down has dried out. They follow their parents about in search of food. From the very start, they find it themselves, depending upon the parents only to lead them to a good feeding spot. Whenever they get cold, they give a little cry, and the parents rush to them and huddle them under their wings to get warm. Small grasshoppers, crickets, weevils, cutworms, and flies are all meat for the killdeer's diet.

Growing up is a slow process for baby killdeer, notes a writer in the Detroit Free Press. There is no sudden change in their appearance, as there is in some birds. Gradually, their legs get longer, their ridiculous little tails lengthen and finally are pushed out altogether by the incoming juvenile tail feathers.

The downy covering of their bodies is replaced also, but not suddenly. It seems that they simply swell and expand and grow taller, much as young children do. Young killdeer are good swimmers from the start. Even though their toes are not webbed, they do not hesitate to swim across puddles or even little streams when they find the water too deep for wading.

Last feathers to develop are those which enable the killdeer to fly. By that time they are practically full grown and it is hard to tell them apart from the older birds. As long as the flight feathers have not grown, the birds have to depend upon running and hiding to escape their enemies.

Pollen From Forests Is Blown Great Distances

A yellow powder resembling sulphur fell in abundance in Colorado a number of years ago, but microscopic examination proved it to be pollen, blown from pine trees growing some miles away. While some plants are pollinated by insects, others depend on the wind to transport their pollen. A single plant of ragweed has been observed to discharge into the atmosphere upward of 8,000,000,000 pollen grains in one morning; a "pollen survey" has shown that the outdoor air in some localities contains as many as 5,000 pollen grains a cubic yard. Pines and some of the other conifers are among the most prolific of pollen producers.

The air in the vicinity of a pine forest sometimes is filled with visible clouds of pollen, and columns of it rising from the trees have been mistaken for the smoke of a forest fire. Pine pollen once fell in such abundance at Pictou, Nova Scotia, that bucketfuls were swept up on the deck of a ship. The town of Lund, Sweden, is said to have been showered with pollen from a pine forest 35 miles away.—Indianapolis News.

A 'Dumb Thing'

PREPARE FOR 11,300 MILE FLIGHT

The famous plane "Southern Cross" is being re-assembled at Burbank, Calif., and will be taken to New York and taken by boat to London for a 11,300-mile hop to Sydney, Australia. Shown at the plane's side awaiting the arrival of Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, noted flier, are (top) Robert Bolton, chief engineer; Thomas Pethybridge (left) co-pilot of the proposed flight; and P. Events Around The Empire State

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP).—Police and private operatives investigated today a reported attempt of counterfeiters to use small lads as unsuspecting accomplices in efforts to pass spurious ten and twenty dollar bills.

The storekeepers in the vicinity of the race track first drew attention of authorities to the attempts when they found poor imitations of ten and twenty dollar bills were being passed.

Clayton, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP).—A bathhouse, a yacht and two powerboats on the Watch Island Estate of Walter J. Green of Utica lay in ruins today, swept by fire which caused damage estimated by the owner at $10,000.

Adams McHenry of Dayton, O., son-in-law of Mr. Green, was burned about the legs and hips.

McHenry was installing a battery in one of the boats when sparks from a wrench he was using ignited gasoline fumes.

Hamilton, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP).—The Seven Oaks golf course at Colgate University had a strike of caddies to deal with today because a number of bag-toters were rushed from Norwich to work during a special match.

James Daigety, local professional, engaged nine caddies from Norwich to work yesterday because of a shortage of bag carriers here. The local caddies resented and went on strike.

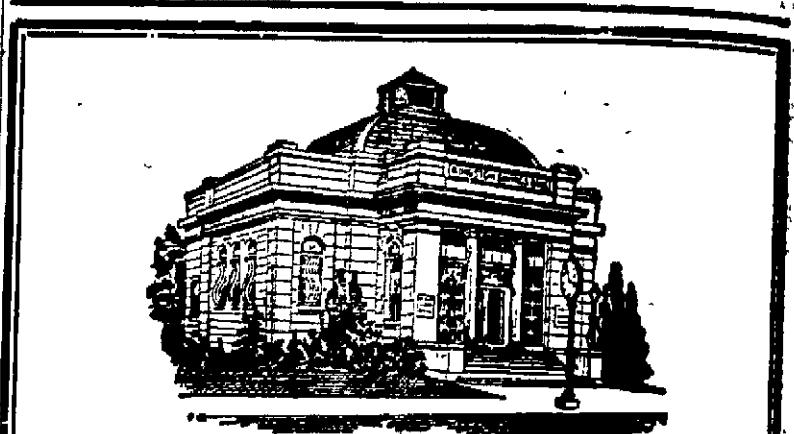

Elmira, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP).—Wage scales established under the NRA are being maintained by union workers, the state allied printing trades council was told today by James Quinn of New York, secretary of the greater New York Central Trades and Labor Council.

Speaking at the council's convention, Quinn predicted great advances for the working man under the collective bargaining provisions of the Wagner labor disputes bill recently enacted.

In hard times like these only a dude would think of wearing suspenders and a belt at the same time.

Sportmen's Bridge Dance.
The Mt. Tremper and Mt. Pleasant Sportmen's Association will hold another of its popular bridge dances on August 3, on the Mt. Tremper. Music will be supplied by the Imperial Colored orchestra. There will also be a vaudeville program. On July 4, a dance was held at the bridge and was attended by several hundred residents of the locality and summer guests.

Warning Against Floods
Elmira, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP).—Warning to south central New York communities to guard against possible future floods of twice the magnitude of the deluge which three weeks ago swept ten counties with a loss of 43 lives was sounded today as army engineers today as Elmira came headquarters for the $200,000 flood control survey soon to begin.

A NEW GASOLINE THAT NAMED ITSELF!

WHEN we inquired of our chemists what was new and different about our new American Gas, one of them said, "Among other things, it's not acid-treated, it's not necessary to add outside chemicals, and it's 'air-conditioned'."

"What do you mean, 'air-conditioned'?" he was asked. "You know," he answered, "how a motor acts up with ordinary gasoline when you run into sudden changes of temperature and humidity. In the course of a day there are a lot of such variations."

"Well, this new gas, as you know, is produced from a 100% pure petroleum base. By careful adjustment of light and content we're able to condition this gasoline at the new refinery so that it counteracts erratic tendencies in the motor due to outside temperature and humidity changes."

"There's been a lot of talk," he continued, "about 'uniform performance' of gasoline. But it's built right into this gasoline—you fill up at any of our pumps from Maine to Florida and, whether you drive long distances or short distances, your motor will never notice any change in weather or climate. This gasoline is 'air-conditioned' and different."

And from that moment on it was known as "AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas. It was named for how it's produced—for what it is and what it does!

"AIR-CONDITION" YOUR MOTOR!

Stop at any Yellow and Black American Gas pump and fill up your tank with "AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas. Then keep your car "air-conditioned" with this amazing new "AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas. Even though it costs us more to produce, it is being sold at regular gas price from Maine to Florida and inland, by thousands of American dealers and stations.

READ THESE OTHER GUARANTEED FEATURES

CLEAN BURNING: 100% Pure Petroleum Base—No Added Chemicals—100% clean burning—no harmful deposits.

GREATER NET POWER: "Air-conditioned" gasoline plus clean burning, guarantee superior performance. Hence, GREATER NET POWER.

WOMEN ANTI-KNOCK: By new processes—without acid treatment—in the world's most modern refinery, we obtain naturally from 100% Pure Petroleum Base a higher anti-knock value than other regular gasolines get artificially by the addition of chemicals to bring up anti-knock value.

MORE MILES: Greater net power and higher anti-knock rating set more miles to the gallon than any other regular gasoline.

Troust Fisherman—Well, I ought to be the prosecuting attorney.

Two girl friends met in the street town one day recently.
First Girl—I hear you've broken off your engagement.

Second Girl—Oh, my dear, yes! Jack simply became impossible. He criticized the way I dressed, objected to my friends, and always expected me to be at his beck and call. Then, on top of all that, he suddenly went off and married another girl. So I simply made up my mind to have nothing more to do with him.

The World

The 1935 LaFayette, which has been on display at Nash and LaFayette dealer showrooms throughout the country for the past month, will be formally announced on July 30, when the LaFayette division of The Nash Motors Company begins one of the largest advertising campaigns ever sponsored by the Kenosha firm. More than 1,000 newspapers will be used beginning July 30 to carry the story of the first of the 1935 cars to make its appearance. In this series of advertisements, C. W. Nash, founder and chairman of the board of The Nash Motors Company, will announce the company's plans to continue its aggressive effort in the low-priced car field, beginning with the announcement of the 1935 LaFayette.

Retail deliveries, made by Dodge dealers during the week ending July 26 and reported to the office of A. Van Der Zee, general sales manager of Dodge Division, Chrysler Motors, registered an increase of 33.2% over sales made in the corresponding week of 1934. The dealers' passenger car sales for the latest report week were 6,528 Dodge and Plymouth passenger cars as against 6,465 for the week ending July 13. Deliveries of Dodge commercial cars and trucks for the week were 1,137, making the week's combined passenger car and truck sales reported by Dodge dealers 7,665, compared to 5,764 in the like week of 1934.

The new Studebaker Corporation made public today its balance sheet as of June 30, 1935, and first profit and loss statement covering the period March 9 to June 30. The balance sheet, according to President Paul G. Hoffman, shows a net worth of $15,151,441 and total current assets of $14,251,984 (including $6,445,298 cash) against current liabilities of $4,326,079, a ratio of 2.9 to 1. Property, plant and equipment, less depreciation, are carried in the balance sheet at $14,121,383. From March 9, when the new corporation took over the business, to June 30, inclusive, a net loss of $87,827 was reported after absorbing depreciation, interest, and other charges of $411,364.

Farm Boys Find Jobs Plentiful

Ithaca, N. Y., August 1.—Farm boys who go to colleges of agriculture are finding good opportunities for jobs when they graduate, reports A. W. Gibson, associate secretary in charge of vocational guidance and placement, New York State College of Agriculture.

"Eighty-four per cent of farm-reared boys had definite jobs starting at once or very soon after commencement day. Some of the others had places under consideration."

"The old notion, persistent in many farm families, that sons of high scholastic ability must leave agriculture and prepare for other professions to find the right opportunity, needs revision, according to recent experience."

"The jobs these men find are in agriculture where they use both their college training and farm backgrounds. They go into many different types of agricultural work, which shows that their training may be applied in many fields. This is important, particularly when jobs are scarce."

The farm-reared group was the largest this year with 62 men out of 137 in the graduating class. Forty-four had had no farm experience when they entered college, and 31 had done some work on farms but were not farm-reared.

"The importance of farm experience for agricultural college students shows definitely in jobs obtained by farm-reared graduates as compared with those who were not brought up on farms," says Mr. Gibson. "While 54 per cent of the men from farms have jobs this year, only 25 per cent of those without farm experience before coming to college were able to arrange for jobs by graduation time. A third group, those who did not come from farms but who had spent some time working on farms before they entered college, were more fortunate in that 48 per cent of them had jobs."

"This year more men have chosen to teach agriculture in high schools than any other single occupation. Almost a third of the farm-reared graduates have jobs as agricultural teachers. Farming and farm bureau work are tied for second place, with the same number in each. Then agricultural business, including work in feed stores and dairy plants, follows. After this comes inspection work, mainly of fruits and vegetables; then follow soil survey and conservation."

"Others have found work with the federal land bank, the production credit corporation, in flower growing, in fish culture, in junior extension, in college teaching, and in graduate study. Only two, however, have gone into work that is not definitely agricultural. One will study law, and the other radio engineering."

"The pay of the farm-reared graduates who will work on salaries ranges from $936 to $2,900 a year, with an average of $1,610. This average is more than $100 higher than for the farm-reared graduates of 1934."

One of the interesting economic developments of the summer comes from various parts of the country where, according to press dispatches, farmers and fruit growers are having some trouble to get adequate help because men refuse to go off federal relief, or what is sometimes known as the government "dole," for a private job. A few weeks ago it was the berry men of New Jersey who were complaining that they could not get pickers, and that the crop would spoil. The claim set up by some of those who refused to go was that the wages were not high enough, the assumption being therefore that it paid better to remain on government relief.

It may be permissible to interrupt a conversation, but don't try it when two women are talking.
That is, don't try it with anything less than a bargain you've just discovered in the Freeman Want Ads.

Extra miles in every tankful

says...THE ENGINEER IN EVERY GALLON

Both Tydol and Tydol-Ethyl Gasolines contain top-cylinder oil

EVEN the best motor doesn't produce its capacity mileage unless it gets proper upper-cylinder lubrication. Oil-thirsty valves stick. Pistons are slowed up by friction-drag. Upper-cylinder walls become overheated. The whole motor works harder and delivers less mileage than it should.

That's why there is blended in Tydol Gasoline a special top-cylinder lubricant which is also a carbon-solvent (the "Engineer in Every Gallon").

This lubricant goes to work and soon has valves, upper-cylinder walls and pistons cool and smooth-working as a clock. Tydol gives you extra power, extra smoothness, extra mileage... yet doesn't cost a penny more than ordinary gasoline.

FAT MAN REDUCES

53 POUNDS—OH BOY!

Don't be stubborn, you big fat men—throw off your fat before your fat throws you into the discard. Do as S. A. Lanier of Sawtelle, Calif., did—read this letter:

"I have used two reducing belts to no benefit but since using Kruschen Salts each morning in my coffee I have taken off 7 lbs. in a week and eat most anything I like. I weighed 248 lbs. 6 months ago and now I weigh 195 lbs."

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—now you know the safe way to lose unsightly fat.

For a trifling sum you can get a bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks at any drugstore in the world—but be sure and get Kruschen—your health comes first.—Adv.

Roosevelt, Lehman At Odds

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York apparently were at loggerheads today on the type of labor to be used in rehabilitation of farm lands and clearing of debris in the south-central New York flood zone. The Governor stood firm for the use of Conservation Civilian Corps workers, while the President indicated at a press conference that he believed it advisable to use unemployed persons.

MOTOR ACCIDENTS
TAKE 15,200 LIVESFirst Six Months Rolls Up an Alarming Total.

Hartford, Conn.—Approximately 15,200 persons were killed and more than 300,000 injured in street and highway accidents the first six months of this year, according to state reports analyzed by the Travelers Insurance company.

Eight thousand of the total of 15,200 deaths have been pedestrian. Nearly 3,100 persons have been killed in collisions between cars. Almost 500 persons have been killed in the collisions of automobiles and trains. The percentages of deaths of pedestrians and persons involved in collisions between cars as well as in automobile-train collisions have been greater this year than for the corresponding part of last year.

Fatal Collisions.

More than 1,500 have been killed in the collision of automobiles with fixed objects and nearly 1,500 also have been killed in non-collision accidents, both of which totals are less in percentage than the first six months of last year.

Deaths from automobile accidents have been around 2 per cent less than the casualties for the corresponding period of last year, but it is possible that this decrease will be more than wiped out by complete and revised figures yet to be reported by all states.

During the last four years deaths from automobile accidents have been 84 per cent greater in the last half of the year than the first, and if this should hold true for this year, the total number of casualties would approximate 35,000. With more cars now in use than last year, the number of persons who will be killed this year is likely to exceed the present estimate which will be subject to an increase because of upward revisions in state reports in keeping with the trend of fatalities.

Drunken Drivers.

Available records for the first half of the year show an increase of almost 13 per cent in the number of drivers under the influence of liquor who were involved in accidents, as well as an increase of 10 per cent in the number of pedestrians under the influence of liquor who were involved in automobile accidents.

Automobile-pedestrian accidents continue to be extremely serious, present figures show, as the records available for the first half of this year indicate that about 40 per cent of all personal injury automobile accidents involved pedestrians, but the deaths of pedestrians comprised more than 50 per cent of all automobile accident fatalities. Although automobile-train collisions the first six months of this year accounted for half of 1 per cent of all personal-injury accidents, the deaths resulting from such mishaps were in excess of 3 per cent of the total of 15,200.

Non-collision accidents accounted for less than 50 per cent of the accidents, but the deaths from them totaled almost 20 per cent of all fatalities.

Meaning of "Black Law"

"Black law" was a name applied to any one of a series of laws, passed in various border and southern states before the Civil war, sharply discriminating against free negroes who wished to emigrate to such states and become citizens thereof. Thus, in some states, certificates of freedom were to be filed, negroes were to be rigidly excluded from the militia and from the public schools, and no negro was to testify in cases in which any white man was directly interested.

Iron Wood

We usually think of wood as a rather soft substance, easily chopped or sawed, yet a saw with teeth hard enough to cut glass was found necessary in order to cut samples of wood received from the Brazilian jungles by the forestry department of Syracuse university. Brought out of the Amazon jungle on the backs of Indians and thence by canoe to a point where they could be shipped to Syracuse, the specimens are largely of iron-wood trees.—Washington Post.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "Hooray for Love" Ann Sothern, Gene Raymond, Bill Robinson, Pert Kelton, Thurston Hall and a host of RKO Radio chorus girls all have fun in this musical presentation that seems to be more or less of a take off on "42nd Street." The show has some song hits, well sung by Miss Sothern and Mr. Raymond, but the bouquets for the best performance must be tossed in the direction of Bill Robinson, the colored tap dancing artist, who scores a triumph in this play. The plot centers around the same idea of most musical shows, with a new Broadway hit about to go smash because of no financial backing. Good summer entertainment.

Orpheum: "In Spite of Danger" and "Wagon Trail." Two features are being shown at the Orpheum, the first with Wallace Ford and Marian Marsh, is pure melodrama about a youngster who overcomes crooks and all other obstacles standing in his way of success. "Wagon Trail" is a story of early American western expansion with the reliable Harry Carey featured after a long absence from the screen.

Kingston: "Let's Live Tonight" and "Party Wire." Tullio Carminati, Lillian Harvey and Tala Birell are to be seen and heard in the opening attraction at the Kingston, a swanky yarn of continental romance wherein two brothers are seeking the hand of the same girl. There are some good lines in this show and a few noteworthy situations, but for the most part, the entire production is sophisticated, breezy and elaborate. "Party Wire" is excellent comedy, a study in what happens in a small town when the gossip listers in at party telephone wires and get the news bawled up. This satire, with numerous laughs and its full share of romance, has a cast that includes Victory Jory, Jean Arthur and Charlie Grapewin.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same.

Orpheum: "Folies Bergere." The debonair Maurice Chevalier starred in this musical and then departed for his beloved France, saying he was through with the screen until more serious roles could be his. Yet despite Mr. Chevalier's anger, the "Folies Bergere" finds him at his best, in a light, airy musical romance that sparkles with sophistication and color. Playing a dual role as both an entertainer and a French nobleman, the usual tangle occurs with everybody mistaking everybody else for somebody. The dance numbers are eye-bling and the support of Merle Oberlin and Ann Sothern is something to cheer about.

Kingston: Same.

Guard Against Red Day. Madrid, Aug. 1 (AP)—Police guards went on duty throughout Madrid today as a precaution for Communist "Red Day," but complete country-wide calm was reported. Assault guards armed with rifles, were stationed in the principal streets and squares of the capital, while mounted police held strategic spots.

HOLLYWOOD
SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — The foreword to the new film, "Diamond Jim," wisely explains that certain liberties have been taken with the subject in the cause of drama.

Edward Arnold has been in Hollywood two or three years, consistently drawing critical acclaim for various character performances, but "Diamond Jim," based on the life story of James Buchanan Brady as set forth by Parker Morell, brings him to full starring stature.

The portly Arnold portrays Brady as a generous, sentimental, shrewd and daring showman of salesmanship, taking disappointment in love gallantly and unselfishly, and finding consolation ultimately in the fine rich foods he loves with gourmet's passion.

Edward Sutherland directed from a script that is at times episodic but brings out considerable of the atmosphere of the "big game" and "blue-ties" in which "Diamond Jim" flourished. Jean Arthur and Lillian Barnes provide the feminine interest, the latter as "Lillian Russell" demonstrating a pleasing singing voice.

Boyer Scores

"Shanghai" sounds like straight melodrama, but in the screening it develops instead into a rather cautious approach to a difficult problem. The same producer, Walter Wanger, dealt in "Private Worlds" with a taboo locale, the insane asylum, and here he skirts the perils of interracial marriage.

Charles Boyer plays the son of a Russian general and a Manchurian princess. He falls in love with the American girl portrayed by Loretta Young. Against a background of "big business" and society in Shanghai, they work out their story of thwarted love. The discovery that her sweetheart is an Eurasian does not daunt the girl, but in the end they foresee the impossibility of happiness together.

Haggard Novel Filmed

Helen Gahagan from operetta, concert and opera stages was liked well enough in her first movie, "She," to warrant new film engagements to keep her here. After she saw the preview she exclaimed, "If only I could do it all over now!"

"She" is H. Rider Haggard's old novel done on spectacular scale. Randolph Scott and Nigel Bruce are the explorers who go in quest of the mysterious "fire of life," taking Helen Mack with them into the strange Kingdom of Kor where rules the beautiful She. They meet all varieties of danger and have fantastic adventures before escaping as She (Miss Gahagan) loses her centuries-old beauty and life. The film is of the thriller type, and beautiful, mounted.

PARENTS OF MISSING BOY

As authorities and posses failed to find trace of two year old Bobby Rush, the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rush (above) clung to assurances of a spiritual medium that their son was safe. Bobby disappeared mysteriously from the Rush home at Athol, Idaho. (Associated Press Photo)

Island Suddenly Appears

Middletown, N. Y., Aug. 1 (P)—Baffled owners of Lake Wanakink, near here, called upon geologists today for a possible explanation of the sudden appearance of an L shaped island 200 feet off shore where the water formerly ranged 15 to 20 feet deep. First apparent last Saturday with a peak above the surface, the island is raising rapidly and at its highest point is six inches above the water. Its soil is soft and contains soft water clams.

Leaning on the government may be at times in periods of stress, necessary, but if long continued the leaner may lose his independence and his American enterprise, to say nothing of what may happen to the government. Few people have ever starved in this country and none should be permitted to starve. But at the same time we ought to be thinking less about government relief and more about giving private enterprise confidence in the future so that it will go ahead and supply real jobs for American workers.

Society to Offer Five Major Awards

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Competition at the annual exhibition of the Empire State Gladiolus Society at Cornell University, August 16 and 17, will center on five major awards, says A. M. S. Pridham of the State College of Agriculture and vice president of the society.

"These are sweepstake cups," he points out. "One cup is offered in each of the five divisions of the show. The president's cup is awarded by F. J. Wheelock of Prattburg to the exhibitor who wins the most points in the open division. Competition here is mainly for commercial gladiolus growers. Amateur growers also, who have more than one-half acre of gladioli are expected to limit their entries to this division."

"The Cyphers trophy, offered by Ned Cyphers of North Syracuse, is awarded for the first time this year. Competition is limited to 'glad' hobbyists and a special group of classes provided. Mr. Cyphers won the president's cup in 1934 with a display of more than 4,000 spikes. The cup goes to the exhibitor winning the most points in the advanced amateur division."

"The Geiser cup, offered by Geiser brothers of Dalton, is also awarded for the first time this year, and goes to the exhibitor with the most points in the amateur division."

"The Empire State Gladiolus Society cup is awarded to the person winning the most points in the garden flower division, sponsored by the Ithaca Garden Club. Entries are open to all amateur gardeners. Classes are devoted entirely to flower arrangement."

"The Homberger cup, offered by F. C. Homberger of Hamburg, goes to the exhibitor with the most awards in the novice division. Competition for the novice cup is open to the public, and any gardener who grows a limited number of gladioli for pleasure may take part in this division."

"In each division of the show are classes devoted to flower arrangement and others to cultural perfection of the gladiolus. Competition for the president's cup, the Cyphers trophy, and the Geiser cup is limited to members of the Empire State Gladiolus Society."

Two-Piece Dress with Interesting Double Collar

In the dress illustrated today the details have been created with so much cunning that the dress achieves an air of distinction, although it is really a very simple affair. The collar is very new, and is the focal point of interest. There is one quite normal collar, attached in the normal way, and then another, cut on the same lines, appears beneath it, the effect being of four petals set on the front of the dress. The blouse is buttoned from the low V-neck to the waistline, and the short petal has a wedge shaped piece taken out of the front to give the effect of a cut-a-way.

Either silk or cotton may be chosen for this dress, especially the waives which have been designed for spectator sports, which are a little less smooth than those used for more formal frocks.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1724-B is designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40, and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42. Size 16 (34) requires about 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material for the model with short sleeves, with 1/2 yard of 29-inch material for contrast.

Easy-To-Wear-Sun-Back

What about this new looking sun-back dress? Better have it in case an unexpected shore invitation happens along.

The back is as brief as modesty allows—so that Old Sol can get on with the sunning as efficiently as possible.

Cottons as plain as plaid or novelties, dashing gingham plaids, daily striped poplins, shantung-linen, tub pastel silks, etc., are favored mediums for this easily made model.

Style No. 3254 is designed for sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 yards of 39-inch material with 1 1/4 yards of 35-inch contrasting.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Shorter, sportier autumn coats—definitely swaggy.

Liana Merwin

While new fur coats in dressier styles for the coming cold weather mostly favor blacks and browns, in richly fashioned caraculs, kidskins, beavers, and processed finishes, models of sporty theme feature furs in natural finishes and colors. These coats are definitely swaggy—ideal for spectator wear at the fall and winter football games or motoring, as well as for the many women who prefer this type of utility coat for daytime wear.

Two such models are sketched above, the one at right being fashioned of natural muskrat, using the full skins to make a sporty coat of unusual smartness. It is seven-eighths length with a tailored collar and two large patch pockets. The buttons are of wood in harmonizing color.

The other swaggy model sketched at left is somewhat dressier in silver gray natural kidskin, featuring a petal neckline and pancake sleeves. This 40-inch model uses the skins in vertical arrangement on the body and crosswise on the sleeves, giving a sunburst effect to the design. The back is flared and there are two slash pockets while the high neckline fastens with a single button.

Window Cleaning

Vinegar and water make windows or glass clean. The vinegar cuts the grease and saves the windows from the powdery after effects of too much soap. This mixture also helps to get off the dust and the dust that has been topped with a splashing rain. Use about one-third of a cup of vinegar to two quarts of water.

But if you want your windows or mirrors to shine brilliantly there is nothing like putting a little blueing in the water.

LOBSTER AND CRAB MEAT PROVIDE THIS DELICACY

If you want something very smart and a little lavish in the way of sandwiches or those hand-around delicacies to serve with a beverage at the afternoon bridge or the evening gathering here is the very thing: Mix lobster and crab meat together and then stir around with the additional touch of hard boiled egg. Blend some butter with this and spread this mixture on toasted and buttered biscuits, crackers, or odd shaped pieces of bread which should be toasted and piping hot.

REAL FLOWER WREATHS WORN AT WEDDING

London (AP)—Brides here are wearing wreaths made of real flowers—usually white—and they match the bouquet. The Countess of Lisburne was one of the first to arrange this type of headpiece for her daughter, Lady Gloria Vaughan. The bridesmaids also wore fresh flowers at this wedding.

No man or woman will contend, for a moment, that in a great country like the United States anyone should be permitted to become naked and starving. But the situation will become just as dangerous if we permit ourselves to get into the state of mind where we expect to live off the government until something that happens to suit us in the way of employment turns up. Some of these days the government's supply of good money will run out and we will then have the prospect not only of a loss of dole but a loss of liberty and a reversion to some form of state socialism.

MENUS OF THE DAY

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE—Winning Over Heat

THE wise housekeeper finds that careful planning and shopping are the secrets for keeping her family and herself comfortable during the hot weather. She uses the oven twice weekly for preparing foods to be used the remainder of week. Cakes, cookies, pies, breads, meat and fish loaves, roasts and baked beans can be baked and stored carefully for future use.

Even canning and preserving can be done in the oven and it requires little attention, merely an occasional stirring. The daily food preparations should take place early in the morning and selections should be those foods easily digested and "cooling." One hot food a meal is advised even for warm weather but this food can consist of soup, stew, vegetables or hot beverage.

The ideal summer desserts consist of fresh fruits, berries or melons and these are easily prepared. Of course frozen foods win favor too and they can be quickly made from chilled fruit juices stored in refrigerator. Canned fruits, vegetables, meats, fish and soups are labor savers and should be used extensively.

New Smart Easy to Make Collars

The well-dressed woman knows that this season she must not neglect her neckwear—that fashion has decreed it a most important part of her wardrobe. And, always on the lookout for the smartly new, she offers you these. They will add to any dress—transform it, in fact, so that even your best friends won't recognize it. The bands can be crocheted (it's just a double crochet worked across) or made of binding or braid. They're just sewn down on paper and joined with bars, fagoting, and spiders. These are simple to make and are described in detail in the directions. The bib collar, so fashionable for summer and fall, brings all the decoration right to the front where it can be best seen.

In pattern 5414 you will find a transfer pattern and directions for making the collars shown; exact illustrations for making them; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th Street, New York, N. Y.

Strike Situation
In Various Sections

By The Associated Press

Efforts to settle the stamping mill strike in Terre Haute, that spread a week ago into a citywide general walkout, received a setback today, but in Cleveland the work of federal mediators met with success.

In the Indiana city, officials of the Columbian stamping mill spurned the aid of federal conciliators and said "no real readjustment" can come from such mediators. Five hundred workers at the plant have been on strike for union recognition for weeks.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady, in Cleveland, effected a plan to settle the strike at the Industrial Rayon Corporation. A ratification meeting of the rayon workers was called for later today.

In Lowell, Mass., the Uxbridge Worsted Company opened its plant under heavy guard. Some 150 workers returned. The plant ordinarily employs 300 persons. At least 75 persons were on the picket lines when the plant reopened, but there was no disorder.

Heavy guards were also used on street cars when service was renewed today between Council Bluffs, Ia., and Omaha—the first cars to move on the line since the strike of carmen resulted in heavy rioting in Omaha July 19.

In Winchester, Mass., officials of the leather workers union prepared to file charges against Police Chief William H. Rogers, alleging he fired directly into a crowd outside a strike-closed plant.

Officials in Jackson, Calif., guarded against a renewal of violence between self-styled vigilantes and union workers of a strike in the gold fields. In Detroit, women leaders of a "meat strike"—who are seeking to bring down the price of meats—discussed plans to carry their campaign over all the state of Michigan.

Y.M.C.A. Camp Closed
Successful Season

Tuesday afternoon marked the close of the 1935 season for Camp Preemaker, Kingston's Y. M. C. A. Camp for boys. This week the camp staff is being retained by the Kiwanis Club to operate the camp for a group of approximately 50 boys which the club will have as its guests at the camp.

One of the features of the last week's program for the "Y" Camp was an overnight hike to Wittenberg Mountain by a group of 12 campers under the direction of Coach Kiss. The boys were fortunate in having beautiful clear weather for the trip, which added to many interesting experiences made by those who climbed the mountain. Another feature of the last week was the ball game between the boys and the leaders in which the boys won by the score of 12 to 8.

Tuesday noon, following the boys' last meal in camp, Camp Director, N. H. Fuller, presided over a division of the following boys: John Kelly, the camp's best power hitter, who got the award this season; Robert Constant and William Worthington. The second award for more meritorious service was presented to Harold Waltons and Alfred Gurnett.

Mass Recruiting for The Ethiopian Army

Addis Ababa, Aug. 1 (AP).—Mass recruiting for the Ethiopian army began today in the capital.

The recruiting was preceded by a military review and a mass meeting in front of the ministry of war.

The action was taken following a war council by the high chiefs of Ethiopia, who were reported to have told Emperor Haile Selassie they believed "it may be too late now to prevent war."

One source said the emperor was gravely concerned by mounting evidence that tens of thousands of his warriors were eager for open hostilities at once to avenge what they regarded as an Italian "slur" on their ancient kingdom.

Haile Selassie, apparently anxious to do nothing to increase the tension, rebuffed sternly some of the more rash leaders who were understood to have urged a breaking of diplomatic relations with Italy.

The united loyalty of the Rases, or tribal chieftains, was emphasized in a manifesto issued after yesterday's secret session in the palace courtyard, asserting that no mandate of any nature over Ethiopia would be accepted.

"It is liberty—unfettered liberty—or death," one chieftain told The Associated Press.

"One signal of fire from the hill-top of Addis Ababa and a million men will spring to arms."

More troops from distant mountain and desert strongholds were en route north. One contingent arrived last night and camped ten miles from the capital, while thousands of others were reported streaming toward the frontier on rapid marches.

A general feeling prevailed throughout the capital as the war council continued that the present uncertainty could not last and that the next few days might prove decisive.

Many Ethiopians discussed openly the strategic value and moral effect of winning the first engagement in any conflict with Italy.

Some believe that if they could hold the Italians in check at the outset of a campaign, the entire population of the empire would rally to the cause of national defense.

It was called after demands for higher wages and shorter hours had been rejected by the company.

"Pure Bunk" Says Labor Head
Albany, N. "If they were not bunk, if they were wholly and literally true, how can any one who thinks in terms of humanity and decency use this as an argument in favor of continuing the deplorable conditions under which women and minors have been forced to work in the hotel and restaurant industry," he said.

Fruit Growers Association Formed

very simple. A grower packs his fruit and trucks it to the market at Highland where it is left on consignment. Buyers attracted by the market will be able to purchase lots as they require of one or different varieties. The sales made by L. G. Haviland & Son, operators of the market will be made on a commission basis as agreed to in a membership agreement which has been signed by a member of the association.

One of the purposes of the market is to eliminate the sale of produce at the farm at lower than market prices. This one feature should eliminate much of the price cutting which buyers now indulge in and should bring better prices to the growers.

Under the membership agreement the association will transmit to the grower once a week the net proceeds from sales. In addition a current price bulletin will be issued at frequent intervals during the marketing season and daily sales reports indicating range of prices will be mailed members.

A minimum of 50,000 bushels of apples has been set for the first year of the association. None of the officials of the Association are salaried officials and both the officers and directors are contributing their services. A membership fee of $1 is collected from each.

"Security Wages" Are Primarily for Relief

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 1.—The State Department of Labor will not take into consideration "security wages" to be paid on WPA projects in setting the prevailing rate of wages for public works projects in the state, Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews announced today in answer to inquiries by labor representatives.

"The 'security wages' to be paid on WPA projects are primarily for relief, not for standard employment and therefore are not in competition as employment wages," Commissioner Andrews declared. "The 'security wage' is paid by the month and is to be the same amount whether a worker actually works 120 hours or fewer hours per month. Were we permitted by law to consider the 'security wage' rates, these wages would not offer any hourly rates on which to make an estimate.

"The department has, in the past, disregarded CWA and TERA wage rates in making surveys and setting prevailing rates of wages. The WPA security wages are in the same category.

"Any other decision would be unfair to the employees, to the contractors and to the taxpayer and contrary to the intent of the state prevailing rates of wages law and of the WPA. Our surveys and computations must be confined to laborers and mechanics employed by contractors in competitive industry if we are to provide fair wages for the workers, equal opportunity to contractors to bid, and the assurance to the state that its work will be done by competent workmen."

The sentence was imposed last March by Circuit Judge Jefferson B. Browne, of Key West as the result of a story which the judge held reflected unfavorably on him. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JAGGER

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—The stock market today began the new month with eyes ahead and its feet on fairly firm ground.

A steady undertone was apparent from the opening, although, here and there, a few issues backed water under profit taking pressure. The first hour found blocks of several thousand shares changing hands. The pace slowed later, however, and a number of the recent favorites showed signs of needing a little rest. The rally, as a group, probably were the best.

Shares up fractions to around a point included Union Pacific, N. Y. Central, Chesapeake & Ohio, Northern Pacific, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Allis Chalmers, Deere, U. S. Smelting, Gillette, Timken-Detroit, Western Union, International Telephone and American Telephone. Peoples Gas was a contrary performer, losing some 3 points. The rest of the utilities marked time, along with General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Steel and Bethlehem.

Why Tobacco Producers Rebel

Toronto, Aug. 1 (AP)—The sense of relief from fatigue and hunger that may follow the smoking of a cigarette, W. J. McCrackin, M. D., reports in the American Journal of Hygiene, is caused by the body's effort to fight off nicotine. The mechanism as shown by other scientists is this. The nicotine in the smoke acts on the sympathetic nervous system, which thereupon induces the adrenal glands to cause release into the blood of some of the glycogen stored in the liver and muscles.

Hardenbergh Will Remove Furniture Business This Month

Announcement was made this morning by William Hardenbergh of the Hardenbergh Company of 37 North Front street that he has taken over the building at 32-34 Main street, as of August 15 and as soon after that date as possible his furniture business will be conducted from that location.

This building, opposite the Kingston Trust Company, is larger and more adapted to the furniture business than his present store on North Front street. It will be possible to display a more complete line of merchandise and Mr. Hardenbergh mentioned this morning that he felt a great deal of gratitude on the part of his customers who have made this expansion possible. He hopes with the increased stock, more pleasant surroundings of the new store and better parking facilities to retain his present trade and add new customers throughout this shopping area.

Railroad Men Are Retiring on Pension

Fred P. Bush, who for the past 44 years has been connected with the West Shore Railroad, retired on a pension, after a long and faithful service.

Mr. Bush entered the employ of the railroad as telegrapher and station agent in 1891 and for several years was stationed at Esopus. In 1899 he went to Catskill as assistant to the late Edward Woodruff, the station agent.

Mr. Bush took up his residence on New street and lived there for many years. Later he removed to Saugerties, but remained at the Catskill station.

After the death of Mr. Woodruff in 1923, Mr. Bush succeeded the latter as station agent, a position which he relinquishes this evening.

Mr. Bush said today that he intends to keep his residence in Saugerties, but at present has no further plans for the future. Although he has reached "three-score-year and ten," Mr. Bush is still active and apparently as alert as ever. He has a record for efficiency and faithful service second to none in the employ of the railroad.

He will be succeeded as station agent at Catskill by Martin M. Clow of New Baltimore, the "second trick" will be held by S. C. Bishop, the present incumbent, and the "third trick" will be held by C. S. Keller of Coeymans.

Charles H. Hommel of Ravensa, station agent at Coxsack, also retired Wednesday and will be succeeded by Stephen Hines of Marlborough. James H. Quinn of Ravensa, and Otis M. Underwood of Kingston, both conductors on the West Shore railroad, also retired Wednesday on pensions.

All the campers are looking forward to the big closing camp fire and a night of honor which takes place camp Friday night of this week. Scouts as well as parents and friends are invited to be present and enjoy the pleasure and fun of this closing camp fire and see the various awards.

During the following week various groups will, under their own leadership, enjoy troop camping. On the 10th of August the Jamboree contingent will take over the camp for special training.

The camp season this year has been an unusually busy one and it is believed that when the records made for the summer that this year will exceed all others.

The Blood And Agony Of A Motor Mishap

Move to indignation by the failure of statistics to shock the motorist into a realization of the appalling consequences of careless driving, F. C. Furnas, writing in the August issue of the Reader's Digest, has tried a more realistic method. In a series of pen pictures of the results of bad motor smashups he offers such gruesome comments as the following:

Collision, turnover or sideswipe, each type of accident produces either a shattering dead stop or a crashing change of direction—and, since the occupant—meaning you—continues in the old direction at the original speed, every surface and angle of the car's interior immediately becomes a battering, tearing projectile, aimed squarely at you—inevitably. There is no bracing yourself against these imperative laws of momentum. It's like going over Niagara Falls in a steel barrel full of railroad spikes.

This spring a wrecking crew pried overturned down an embankment and out stepped the driver with only a scratch on his cheek. But his mother was still inside, a splinter of wood from the top driven four inches into her brain as a result of son's taking a greasy curve a little too fast. No blood—no horribly twisted bones—just a gray-haired corpse still clutching her pocketbook in her lap as she had clutched it when she felt the car leave the road.

On that same curve a month later, a light touring car crashed a tree. In the middle of the front seat they found a nine-month-old baby surrounded by broken glass and yet absolutely unhurt. A fine practical joke on death—but spoiled by the baby's parents, still sitting on each side of him, instantly killed by shattering their skulls on the dashboard.

If you customarily pass without clear vision a long way ahead, make sure that every member of the party carries identification papers—it's difficult to identify a body with its whole face bashed in or torn off. The driver is death's favorite target. If the steering wheel holds together it ruptures his liver or spleen so he bleeds to death internally. Or, if the steering wheel breaks off, the matter is settled instantly by the steering column's plunging through his abdomen.

Governor Silent on German Protest Note

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP)—Governor Herbert H. Lehman continued tight-lipped silence today as to what action he will take when and if he receives the German note of protest against the tearing of the Hitler flag from the liner Bremen in New York last Friday.

"I can't comment until I have received the communication and know what it contains," the governor said, "all I know about it is what I read in the newspapers."

The note had not been received by the governor early today, although the State Department at Washington is reported to have sent it to Albany with a request for an investigation of the Bremen incident.

Capital reports indicated that the governor, if the note is received, will ask Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York city to supply him with the necessary information to answer the query.

Meantime, Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine of New York city sent a report of the incident to the State Department at Washington without waiting for instructions from the governor.

William Phillips, acting secretary of state, indicated this report would form the basis of a reply to the German note.

Motorist Arrests Policeman Philadelphia, Aug. 1 (AP)—A motorist with no particular nose for news arrested a policeman for drunken driving. The policeman, John E. Byers, almost caused a collision on the highway. Motorist Clarence H. Muts, of Noble, Pa., reported. Muts said he followed the other car and forced it to the curb. "I didn't know he was a policeman," he explained. Byers, declared intoxicated by Police Surgeon Maxwell Cherner, was suspended from the force and held for the grand jury in $400 bail.

Rosendale Cement Is Being Used for State Road in Herkimer Co.

Last year when the New Paltz concrete road was built by the state it was decided to use a blend of Rosendale cement and Portland cement on a small part of the road as an experiment. This was done and so successful was the experiment, that the state highway department is having a road constructed in Herkimer county using the same blend.

This morning A. J. Snyder, vice president and general manager of the Century Cement Manufacturing Company of Rosendale, stated that shipments of Rosendale cement are now being made to the road construction job in Herkimer county.

In using Rosendale cement on the New Paltz road job it was used with Portland cement, the two cements being mixed together. Several slabs of concrete pavement were laid with this blend and the state highway department has kept in close touch to see how the blend held up. After nine months core tests show that the strength is gradually increasing. Mr. Snyder said that by blending the two cements a concrete road is built that retains the early strength of cement plus durability.

The Rosendale company is now manufacturing a new product known as stainless cement for use in brick buildings and also buildings of Indiana limestone. The company has been awarded a contract to supply the cement used in a post office building being erected for the government in New Jersey.

Shackett's Pitching Enables Hairdressers to Blank Forsts

Warren Shackett, big right hander of the Crystal Beauty Shoppe, held Forst's Formosts to three measly hits and whitewashed them, 7 to 0, at the Athletic Field, Wednesday evening. The victory marked the Hairdressers' second straight and brought them a step closer to the second half championship of the City League.

Heavy hitting and brilliant fielding also played a big part in the win. Eleven hits in all were made by the Hairdressers and all except one figured in the scoring.

Ted Freleigh was the heaviest hitter of the evening with a triple, a double and a single, while Joey Hoffman had a perfect evening, connecting safely three times out of three trips to the plate.

Shackett pitched hitless ball until the fourth inning. Then Jack Dawkins hit through the infield and stretched a single into a double. Shackett's hardest inning was the sixth when the Formosts collected their other two hits. He was invincible in the other innings.

Big Jack Dodge opposed Shackett and gave him a fairly good battle until the last inning. In this frame he was nicked for five of the 11 hits he permitted. "Pucker" Davis relieved Dodge in the last inning and checked the Hairdressers' big rally.

The Hairdressers sewed the ball game up as early as the first inning. Hoffman punched a single into left field, stole second base and went to third on Rider's wild throw. He denied the rubber on Baker's long fly to Lay in left field.

Benjamin doubled to left field in the third inning and paved the way for some more Hairdresser runs. Hoffman sacrificed him to third and Baker again came through with a long fly to Lay to enable Benjamin to tally. Freleigh hit his triple after Benjamin scored and came home on an infield hit by Bill Thomas.

There were two outs in the last inning when the Hairdressers started to rattle singles off Dodge's delivery. Hoffman, Baker and T. Freleigh pumped consecutive singles into left field. Finger hit one into centerfield and Thomas also hit one into left field. Four runs resulted.

The Formosts threatened to score three times, advancing men as far as third base in the second, fourth and sixth. In the sixth Knight was nipped at the plate, trying to score on Dawkins' second single. Lay had advanced him to second after he received a walk.

SIDELINERS

Finger made a beautiful catch of Lay's liner in the fourth. He also robbed Sickler of a hit in the seventh.

Stumpf brought fans to their feet with a spectacular bare-hand stop of Glaser's bouncer in the sixth.

Ted Freleigh made a real bid for the case of Burgomaster donated by Fitzgerald Bros. in the third. His triple came near being a homer.

The outfielders had plenty of work. Benjamin had to race back to the sidewalk to get Rider's long fly in the fifth.

Forst's Formosts will replace the Crystal Beauty Shoppe in Friday's game. They will meet the Hercules.

Munn Honeymoons As His Training For Coaching Job

Minneapolis (AP)—Clarence Munn, Albright college's new football coach and athletic director, will be in condition when he takes over his new duties at Reading, Pa., September 1. The former Minnesota all-America guard has spent most of the summer in the Crane Lake region of the northern Minnesota-Canadian border forest land.

With his bride of a month, Munn has been roughing it, canoeing, portaging, packing over forest trails and keeping in the same sort of physical condition that brought him fame as a player.

Munn tips the beam at 215 pounds, two pounds heavier than he was the day he reported for practice in 1931, his all-America year. With all his weight he can do handstands and perform other gymnastic feats.

If he's as conscientious about his coaching as he was about his playing, Munn will be a big success. He put in something like 150 hours on his punting alone the summer before he became all-America.

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

Widseth May Be Key Gridder Of Minnesota Team

Minneapolis (AP)—As western conference football coaches begin plotting their "paper campaigns" that so often go awry in November, the name of Ed Widseth of Minnesota is likely to take up considerable space in the marginal notes.

No coach whose team opposed Bernie Bierman's Gophers last year need be told anything about Widseth. He's one of the chief reasons why northwest grid fans are optimistic—too optimistic to suit Bierman—over 1935 Gopher prospects.

Edwin Widseth—height, 6 feet, 2 inches; weight, 225 pounds; age, 25; class, junior; position, left tackle. That's the way the roster describes him.

Twenty-five may seem old for a junior in college but Widseth has a reason. Attending to his widowed mother's farm near McIntosh, Minn., kept him busy for several years before he could go to college.

To make a long story short, when he appeared on the freshman squad at Minnesota he had had two years of high school football as fullback. Size and strength got him by for a while but it took Dr. George Hauser, himself a great Minnesota tackle in 1916, to put the polish on Widseth.

Hauser told him to forget he had a pair of hands on defense. He made him charge into the "core" of the opposing backfield on every play. Boxed or fooled, Hauser did not blame him as long as he charged.

Long afternoons of constant charging developed him. He learned to charge with a snap, hitting like a fighter delivering a knockout punch. That terrific drive, coupled with the poise of a veteran, and a natural knack of doing things made sideliners marvel at the transformation that had taken place with one year's coaching.

And the fans are beginning to mention him in the same breath as Bronko Nagurski, another farmer boy who came down to college to show 'em how to play football.

COMFORTERS DEFEAT FAIR STREET BY 8-5

The Church of the Comforter softball team handed the Fair Street representatives their second defeat of the season last evening at Forsyth Park by the score of 8-5. A triple by Rhymer in the fifth inning with the bases full won the game for the Comforters.

Craig and Kennedy formed the battery for the Comforters while Clayton and Newkirk worked for Fair Street. This game was the last league game for the Comforters and leaves them with a record of six wins and two losses.

APPLE KNOCKERS WIN OVER TELCOS BY 16-9

With Hymie Aduchefsky smacking out two homers and a double, Art Kaplan's Old Catekill Apple Knockers ransacked the Telephones last night in a league softball game by the tune of 16-9. George Flemming rapped out a homer and one double and Don Kelly hit a triple, double and single.

Bennie Fein was again on the mound for the knockers and allowed but nine well scattered hits while his mates nicked Hankinson for 15.

Score by innings:
Knockers 4 10 5 21—16 15 0
Telcos 2 10 0 30—6 9 1

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

R. P. W. TEAM DEFEATS A. D. ROSE BY 8-3 SCORE

The Board of Public Works softball team ran up an impressive eight run score last night to take the measure of the A. D. Rose aggregation by 8-3 in a league game.

Leo Roskoskie played a bangup game in center field for the winners and Passante buried effective ball.

Huron Indians And Schenectady Black Sox At Rosendale Tonight

Three Kingstonians On Walkill Card

Friday night at Walkill Medium Security Prison there will be a card of boxing bouts, featuring some of the institution's best pugilists in competition with boys from West Point and Kingston. Local youths on the card are Ralph North, Kid Chapple and Leander Robins. The Walkill bouts are always well patronized and Friday's bill is expected to draw a good attendance.

ABANDONS CITY CROWN, BUT WINS STATE TITLE

Indianapolis (AP)—Miss Elizabeth Dunn, after winning the women's golf championship of Indianapolis for 10 successive years, has decided to step aside and give the other girls a chance.

After announcing her retirement from that competition, she went to Fort Wayne and showed that she still is the best woman golfer in Indiana by winning the state title for the third successive time. She has been state champion six times in the last 10 years.

Golf experts say Miss Dunn would be one of the country's finest women golfers if she had time to give to the game. She takes time off from her work as a telephone operator each year to play in the state tournament. That's part of her vacation.

San Francisco—Fred Apostoli, 157, San Francisco, stopped Dick Foster, 155, Berkeley, Calif. (6).

One of the feature games of the current baseball season will be played this evening at Kristic Field in Rosendale when the Huron Indians take on the Schenectady Black Sox, one of the strongest semi-pro teams in eastern New York. The colored boys are noted for their heavy slug-ging. Their lineup will be featured by Amos "Big Train" Wright, the speed ball artist who was formerly with the Mohawks.

Wright will be opposed on the mound by Lefty Martin, who is being borrowed from the Hercules aggregation. Manager Baumgarten announces that he expects to start Martin with Rask or Yonnetti on the relieving end. Besides this battery, Baumgarten will use his regular lineup including Neff, Fahy, Snyder and Kelder in the infield and C. Neff, Regan and H. Rask in the outfield.

After the game there will be a dance and fireworks and a block party will be held in Rosendale.

If the game proves popular, Manager Baumgarten announced that other well known teams such as the Black Yankees, Cuban Stars and House of David will be booked. Tonight's game will start at 8:15.

BROTHERLY JINX BROTHERS YOUNGER OF COAST COUPLE

San Francisco (AP)—Jack and Bud Finger, young brothers, are two of northern California's foremost golfers, but they seldom play together. Bud, northern California amateur runner-up, finds big brother Jack, San Francisco city champion, a jinx. When he plays Jack, he usually leaves his game behind on the first tee.

The prospect of another meeting between Mrs. Helen Willis Moody and Miss Helen Jacobs in the national championships so completely overshadows all else that no one is giving a thought to the possibility of a dark horse stealing the show. And yet that possibility does exist in the form of the raven-haired Miss Carolyn Babcock, of Los Angeles.

It was Miss Babcock who scored a sensational triumph over Miss Jacobs in straight sets, 6-4 and 6-2, in the Sea Bright final last year.

The same young lady recently appeared for the 48th annual competition of the Sea Bright Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club vastly improved in condition—and with a year's experience added. Several pounds lighter in weight, she attributes her generally improved physical condition to the fact that she has had four troublesome wisdom teeth removed.

The loss of the wisdom teeth hardly has anything to do with it but Miss Babcock has smartened up her game considerably. She is concentrating on steadiness this year in contrast to her chance-taking play of the past which caused her to toss away many a golden opportunity. She foolishly threw away her match against Miss Jacobs in the nationals at Forest Hills last summer when she dropped a straight-set decision to the defending champion. This year is a new chapter.

With her new found "fighting trim" Miss Babcock has developed a confidence that was lacking in the past. Her game never reached the heights her ability warranted, only because she lacked the confidence that makes champions. Having freed herself of the old inferiority complex she refuses to believe that a victory at Forest Hills is beyond hope.

A Carolyn Babcock in that frame of mind is likely to step in and spoil the best-laid plans for a return meeting between the two Helens when the women's singles championship is being decided at Forest Hills.

Miss Babcock hopes to use the whipping herself up to the very peak of her game by the time the best test comes along. Her game needs considerable adjusting to the grass courts after a season on the hard courts of California. That having been accomplished the Los Angeles miss promises to make it mighty interesting for any opponent who faces her across the nets.

Why Parker Stayed Home. Frankie Parker was most anxious to accompany his teammates to the Lawrenceville school on their tennis invasion of England but decided to forego the trip because he was afraid his presence on the squad might leave him open to adverse criticism, since he had refused to accompany the Davis cup squad abroad because he did not want to let tennis interfere with his schooling.

As a matter of fact the Lawrenceville team did not leave for England until after the semester was completed and that was several weeks after the Davis cuppers were on the European scene of action, but just the same Frankie was taking no chances and decided to stay here and keep the home fires burning. He'll most likely pick up several of the most prized trophies to make up for the loss he suffered in passing up the trip with his class-mates.

BACK CHEVROLET, 15-7. The Chevrolet mechanics suffered a severe trouncing last night in a league game at the hands of the Central Hudson softballers by 15-7, at Pan Am field.

The game was featured by heavy slugfests of both teams. Matbia and Bott both smacked out homers for the Chevies and Reynolds and Rieman did the same for the winners.

Rieman and Crawford formed the winning battery while Davis and Smith worked for the Chevrolet.

CITY SERVICE SWAMPS HOLY CROSS BY 30-7. Every man on the Cities Service softball team hit a home run last night at Hasbrouck Park to help slaughter the Holy Cross team by the one-sided count of 30-7.

The Service men found their batting eye in the opening frame and pounded the offerings of the opponent moundsman at will. Smith and DuBois worked for the winners.

SOFTBALL GAMES. Tonight. Holy Cross vs. Hurley at Forth Park.

Friday. Clinton Avenue New's Club vs. Saint-James at Forth Park, 6:30.

New York baseball fans may talk of a five-year world series, but in Chicago there is a strong feeling that it will be a three-for-a-quarter affair with the elevated and not the subway providing the chief mode of transportation.

Once, in 1906, the Sox and Cubs met to decide baseball supremacy with Fielder Jones leading the American League to a 4 to 2 triumph in games over the National League team, managed by Frank Chance.

Now they have hope again with the Cubs only a half-game back of the pace setting New York Giants in the National League and the White Sox only a half game out of second place and three and one-half games to the rear of the Detroit Tigers in the junior circuit.

The Cubs had a golden opportunity yesterday when the Giants lost to the Phillies again, but the best they could do was a split in a double-header with the Pittsburgh Pirates. They won the opener 4 to 2 with Roy Henshaw outpitching Cy Blanton before giving way to a pinch hitter in the eighth.

They carried the nightcap to 11 innings before losing 6 to 5. The defeat broke the Chicagoans' winning streak at 11 games and left them with a record of 24 victories in 28 games played since July 6.

Henshaw had a chance to get credit for winning the second also, having relieved Tex Carlisle with two out in the fifth, but Lloyd Waner clipped him for a double with two out in the ninth to tie the score.

The Cubs scored again in the tenth off Charley Root, but once more the Pirates knotted the count, Gus Suh's triple sending the tying run across the plate.

The Giants were the victims of home runs as the Phils won 5 to 3 to take the series two games to one. John Moore and Dolph Camilli picked out one of Carl Hubbell's curves and hit successive homers in the second. Moore got another off Leon Chagnon in the ninth. Curt Davis allowed 12 hits, but Terry's double was the only extra-base blow.

The White Sox closed in on the Yankees, whose game with the Athletics was rained out, by coming from behind to beat the Cleveland Indians 6 to 4. Mel Harder hit two homers for the tribe but weakened in the eighth as the Sox sent four runs across the plate.

The Tigers took advantage of the Yanks' idleness to gain a decision over the last place Browns, 9-3.

Wesley Ferrell was the whole show as he chalked up his 17th victory in hurling and batting the Red Sox to a 6 to 4 victory over the Senators.

In a 10-inning game at Cincinnati, the Reds defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-2.

Wes Ferrell, Red Sox—Pitched and batted Sox to victory over Senators, driving in four runs with two homers and single.

Hank Greenberg, Tigers—Got to Browns pitchers for 28th homer, triple and single.

Rip Radcliffe and Zeke Bonura, White Sox—Rapped Mel Harder and Lloyd Brown for three hits each.

Roy Henshaw, Cubs, and Ralph Birkhofer, Pirates—Former held Pirates to four hits. Latter drove in winning run in nightcap with eleventh inning triple.

Sam Leslie, Dodgers, and Fred Frankhouse, Braves—Leslie's homer provided Brooklyn with winning margin in opener; Frankhouse buried fire-hit ball in second.

John Moore and Dolph Camilli, Phillies—Moore got two homers and Camilli one to beat Carl Hubbell and Giants.

Hankow, China (AP)—A trim sailing boat of American design which passes lumbering Chinese junk and sampans at a dizzy speed is a source of unending wonderment to boatmen on the Yangtze river.

The boat was built under the direction of M. L. Southwick, manager for an American oil company here, who hopes to make yachting a popular pastime among foreigners and Chinese of this interior city.

Although Hankow is 600 miles inland, it is circumscribed by rivers and lakes. People use boats for fishing and for transportation—but never for sport. Hankow will become the center of yachting in China if Southwick has his way.

Southwick got the idea for introducing yachting into central China from the classic Rainbow-Endeavour races, which were given much publicity here. From New York he obtained blue-prints, and the craft was built here with Chinese labor. It's 15 feet long, with a 26-foot mast.

In her first trials on the Yangtze, under full sail, the boat showed what in China would be regarded as phenomenal speed.

The boat has been christened the "El-Bar-El" for Southwick's three attractive daughters—Eleanor, Barbara and Elizabeth.

Turnstiles Turn Stubbornly, but Three-I Goes On

Springfield, Ill. (AP)—Business could be better at the turnstiles, but baseball is again being played in the revived Three-I League and it looks as if the schedule might be completed for the first time since 1931.

One of the oldest Class B leagues, the Three-I has had its financial troubles this year, with spring and early summer rains causing postponements at a time when most of the bleacher seats were empty even on warm afternoons and clear nights.

The Springfield club, which almost folded before it won the first half of the split season, drew larger crowds in the three weeks following July 4 than it did during May and June.

Conditions have improved at the other Illinois and Indiana cities. President L. J. Wylie reports, and the six teams are expected to play out the schedule.

The baseball record in downstate Illinois during recent years: 1931—Three-I season finished under difficulties. 1932—Three-I League collapsed in mid-season. 1933—Mississippi Valley League taken over, giving up the ghost after two months. 1934—Central League stretched to take in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois clubs; folded up early in the season as a result of poor attendance and long traveling distances.

The Three-I League, 35 years old, is now composed of Springfield, Bloomington, Peoria and Decatur in Illinois and Fort Wayne and Terre Haute in Indiana.

A beauty specialist says that blondes are becoming extinct. Oh, yes? Go to any bathing beach and you will find them more in evidence than ever. The same thing is true of brunettes.
